I installed WPS office as an administrator but it is not available to the other user when he logs in. WPS is set as the "default" program for office extensions in my user account. WPS does not show up anywhere in the second user account. I would rather NOT need to install this program(s) for each individual user (a waste of disk space).

Kingsoft Office is a great program, and not just because it is free. It is powerful but simple to use, in fact I prefer it to Microsoft Office which has a far too convoluted way of operation. Basically, Kingsoft Office does everything you may want for day-to-day private and small business letter writing and spreadsheet work.

This was the best free office app I have used. Recent improvements make it even better: 1) ability to use the cloud to store and sync files, 2) addition of much needed scroll bars in the spreadsheet, 3) compatibility with MS Office, though a little limited, 4) imbedded internet links in imported documents work, with th exception of macro buttons from MS Office.
